

Guidelines for Determining Supplier Payment Terms

Credit Terms

The Company prioritizes liquidity and cash flow management. Under our standard policy, credit terms are set between 30 to 90 days. However, specific terms may vary depending on the individual supplier and several key factors, such as the duration of the business relationship, product type, sales performance, inventory turnover, and quality standards. The Company is committed to treating all business partners with fairness and equity.